JD, RUTGERS UNIVERSITY- NEWARK
BA WITH HONORS, UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN, ANN ARBOR

After graduating from Rutgers School of Law – Newark, I served as a law clerk to the Honorable Donald J. Volkert, Jr., P.J.S.C., the Presiding Judge of the Family Division where I worked closely on numerous matrimonial matters. Following my clerkship, I worked as an Assistant Deputy Public Defender, where I obtained extensive litigation experience representing thousand of clients. In 2006, I started my own law practice where I focus on family law. I strongly encourage my clients to settle their divorce matters through the collaborative process, as it allows them to create the best possible resolution for both themselves as well as their children. Collaborative divorce is a great alternative to the expensive and lengthy litigation process; instead utilizing a team approach working towards a favorable settlement while focusing on the specific needs and priorities of the parties involved. My broad legal experience has helped me through the collaborative process as I have a vast experience in a variety of financial and other complex matters.

UNIVERSITY OF RHODE ISLAND, BS CIVIL/ ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING
MIT, GRADUATE RESEARCH ENGINEER, ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING
TUFTS, MS CIVIL/ ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING

As a Certified Financial Planner (CFP), I can work with divorcing couples either as a neutral financial advisor or as an advisor to one spouse if that is needed, to resolve financial issues that arise during the divorce process. I combine education, calculations, and financial planning to find creative solutions, and work closely with team members to resolve alimony, child support and equitable distribution of assets.

I was divorced collaboratively and truly believe that my kids are better off than if we had gone the route of litigation. Because of this I am intimately familiar with and passionately supportive of the collaborative. I studied engineering at URI, Tufts, and MIT. Those skills are useful in the quantitative parts of divorce, but my personal experience has helped me guide clients through the process and deliver peace of mind.

NJ LICENSED PSYCHOLOGIST

Over the past ten years, Dr. Donahue's private practice has focused on the unique needs of children, families, and adults in need of emotional support during life's difficult transitions. Her specialized training in child psychology and family dynamics enables her to understand each family member's unique needs, allowing her to formulate meaningful interventions for all of her clients. Dr. Donahue recognizes that although divorce is inherently a legal matter, the majority of obstacles that interfere with amicable negotiations and productive decision-making are driven by highly charged emotions. Just as great emotional bonds bring a couple to marriage, the dissolution of those connections oftentimes intensify the divorce process immensely. This common reality creates a vital need for the contributions of an experienced psychologist on the Collaborative Divorce Team.

Divorce Coach

Within the Collaborative Team model, there are two crucial roles uniquely suited to a Psychologist's specialized training, namely the roles of a Divorce Coach and a Child Specialist. As a Divorce Coach, I assist clients by recognizing the emotionally charged issues that impede divorce negotiations, and work with clients to effectively manage the resulting anger and distress. My objective is to help clients and lawyers anticipate and manage the "hot button" emotional issues that inevitably arise so clients may reach fair and equitable agreements that foster a healthy adjustment to post divorce outcomes and more positive co-parenting situations.

Child Specialist

As a Child Specialist, I act as a neutral voice for the children as they transition through their parent's divorce. I share with parents the latest research findings to best mitigate the negative effects of divorce on children so they are free to love each parent as they transition towards co-parenting households. My role as the Child Specialist allows the children to have meaningful participation in decisions that will effect them for the rest of their lives, and manage any misperceptions they may have about their parents decision to divorce. I help parents focus on the needs of the children by providing education and insight into how the children are coping, as well as guidance to best address a child's developmental needs. The addition of a Child Specialist allows the children to be included in the process in a very constructive, age appropriate, and safe manner.

JOAN M. DONNELLY, ESQ.

I HAVE BEEN PRACTICING LAW FOR OVER 30 YEARS IN THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY, PRIMARILY IN MONMOUTH, OCEAN AND MIDDLESEX COUNTIES. MY AREA OF PRACTICE HAS BEEN PRIMARILY IN FAMILY LAW. ALONG WITH THE DIVORCE PROCESS ITSELF, I HAVE HANDLED REAL ESTATE, WHETHER BUYING, SELLING OR REFINANCING; PREPARATION OF WILLS AND MUNICIPAL COURT MATTERS. I ALSO HAVE EXTENSIVE BACKGROUND IN APPELLATE PRACTICE.

My matrimonial experience is broad including divorce, child support issues, custody and parenting time, equitable distribution of assets, Domestic Violence cases and post-Judgment divorce issues. I am no stranger to litigation.

Approximately 12 years ago I took Mediation training recognizing that many divorcing couples prefer to resolve their differences in a non-litigious and more economically feasible manner. Since that time I am committed to that process where appropriate and have continued to practice in that area as well as collaborative law.

Collaborative Law, where divorcing parties agree to "collaborate" with lawyers, financial professionals, therapists where beneficial for children and any other professionals needed to move the process forward, is designed to provide a structure outside the court room and the court system and for the parties to explore and negotiate settlement of their issues in a respectful atmosphere at their own pace.

I am available to assist parties with their Family law issues in all three modalities – be it litigation, mediation or collaborative law.

Despite twenty five years of practice as an independent, licensed psychologist with varied interests and specializations, my major practice area evolved into working with individuals, couples and families imagining, experiencing, enduring, and flourishing in divorce. I work actively and extensively in the varied roles a psychologist does when the worlds of family law and professional psychology intersect – whether therapeutic, consultative or forensic – and so am well-positioned to understand, intervene and facilitate when divorce, one of the most profound sources of personal life troubles we may experience, occurs. My attraction to collaborative law lies in its promise to help families navigate through this transition more respectfully, with greater dignity and fairness, and in a manner that allows people to feel that they still continue to exert positive and collaborative control over their lives, and can guide the lives of their children with considerably less of the financial, emotional, and logistical stress that comes with conflict-based, adversarial approaches. Like most of the professionals in this work group, I have observed what happens long-term to individuals and families when they are swallowed up by this antagonism, and have pledged to work collaboratively towards the longer-term interests of children and families as they reconstitute in divorce. When common sense, harmony, collaborative parenting, respect, empathy, fairness, and child-centeredness rule, these more than offset the inevitable feelings of failure, anger, abandonment and disappointment that divorcing people and their children experience.

He is a charter member of the Middlesex County Matrimonial Early Settlement Panel which helps divorcing couples settle their disputes by agreement rather than continuing their divorce litigation. He has chaired numerous committees as a trustee and officer of the Middlesex County Bar Association and is currently the vice-chairman of the Family Law Section of the Middlesex County Bar Association. He has been appointed by the Supreme Court of New Jersey as a civil arbitrator. He also serves as a mediator for the Middlesex County Bar Association's Chancery Practice committee. He has been chosen by his colleagues to mediate and arbitrate both matrimonial and civil litigation cases. He has received an AV rating from Martindale-Hubbell, the highest rating attainable for both skill as an attorney and ethical conduct. Robert was a member of the Law Review and The Order of the Coif at Villanova University School of Law, from which he graduated in 1974. Robert was admitted to practice in New Jersey (1974) as well as before the United States Supreme Court (1992). He was awarded a certificate of Meritorious Service by the New Jersey Supreme Court as Chair of the District VIII Fee Arbitration Committee and is currently serving a new term as a panel chair of that committee. Robert also serves as a panel member of the Volunteer Attorney program for Central Jersey Legal Services and has represented numerous clients on a pro bono basis over his years of practice. Articles by Robert have been published in the New Jersey Family Lawyer, the principal publication of the New Jersey State Bar Association Family Law Section. He is a 1971 graduate of The Pennsylvania State University and a 1974 graduate of Villanova University School of Law, where he was an associate editor of the Villanova Law Review. In addition to his regular law practice representing individual clients, Robert is actively engaged in the mediation and arbitration of family law matters. On March 24, 2010, Robert received the Pro Bono Attorney of the Year Award from the Middlesex County Bar Association, which recognized his 26 years as a member of the Volunteer Attorney Program for Central Jersey Legal Services, representing those who cannot afford private counsel in a variety of civil matters including divorce, child custody and support matters.

After being a partner in a law firm for over 30 years, Robert is proud to have joined the Manalapan, NJ law firm of Drescher & Cheslow, P.A. as of March 1, 2011, where he continues his practice concentrating in divorce and family law, personal injury, workers compensation, civil litigation and mediation and arbitration. Robert's breadth of experience in many areas of the law gives him a unique perspective in lending his skills to the collaborative law practice with the Collaborative Divorce Professionals.

Upon graduating law school, I served as the law clerk to Hon. Florence R. Peskoe (P.J.S.C.) and Hon. Thomas W. Cavanagh (P.J.Ch.) in the Monmouth County Court Family Law Part. I've been a partner at Hoffman & Hoffman since 2000, and our practice focuses on family law, bankruptcy and debt issues and estate planning and settlement. Many divorce cases involve complex financial issues, such as the unwinding of joint debt and financial and estate planning and I am very experienced in handling those types of matters. Although the firm is well known for its litigation practice, I've always approached family law cases differently than commercial and business disputes. How the parties divorce can greatly impact on the final outcome and the effects on the family can be felt for many years. Divorce through the collaborative law process allows for the parties to maintain control over their lives while still protecting their interests and the interests of their children.

C. CATHERINE JANNARONE, ESQ.

I HAVE BEEN ENGAGED IN THE PRIVATE PRACTICE OF LAW SINCE 1982, WITH OFFICES CURRENTLY LOCATED IN MATAWAN AND WALL TOWNSHIP.

- Juris Doctor, Antioch School of Law; Bachelor of Arts, Criminology, University of Maryland.
- Extensive training in Mediation and Collaborative Practice.

- Early Settlement Panelist, Superior Court of New Jersey, Monmouth County, 1988 to present.
- Former member and past President, Monmouth County Municipal Court Judges Association.

A substantial portion of my practice is devoted to family law, including collaborative divorce, mediation and litigation. I strongly believe that divorces settled through the collaborative process lend themselves to faster, more economical and better resolutions, in sharp contrast to the lengthy, costly and adversarial litigation system. Rejecting the uncertainty of putting the fate of their families and futures in the hands of others, the divorcing couple instead choose to work with the collaborative team to reach the best outcomes for themselves and their children, which they craft themselves.

In addition to my family practice, I offer divorcing couples additional legal services that are often needed at the time of divorce. With more than thirty years of experience and a dedicated staff of paralegals, I can assist my client with all of his or her real estate needs, including selling or buying a home, or closing on a new mortgage as part of a refinance when one spouse buys out the other's interest in the marital home.

When parties divorce, Wills, Powers of Attorney and Living Wills all must be updated, consistent with the parties' changed status. My office handles those matters on a regular basis, and we are happy to help our divorcing clients make sure their important legal documents are up to date.

As a former Municipal Court Judge for fourteen years, I am also available to assist clients in matters of Municipal Court defense.

Personal Mission Statement:

My belief is that life can be good - no matter what the circumstance.

Over the past 16 years, I have been a practicing Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, which has - and continues to be - a most rewarding experience for me, both personally and professionally. My training gives me the ability to look at problems in the context of all areas: family, job, health, and other important relationships that can cause stress and affect your everyday life.

My goal has always been to strengthen families and their emotional health in a variety of ways such as supporting their feelings, wants, dreams and to continually provide them with insight and knowledge. By doing this, I believe that the entire family unit will benefit, especially the children, whether the parents are living together or apart. This is a systematic approach to therapy.

I pride myself on being an active listener as well as being able to continually present to my clients' different perspectives as a couples counselor, family therapist as well as divorce coach. As a therapist, some of the most rewarding moments in my professional life have been when a client begins to realize the changes in his/her life.

A pinnacle moment for me as a professional, has always been when the client realizes what s/he has discovered about their life, the change in how they relate to others as well as how they exist in their daily life. That is exactly the reason I am passionate about what I do. Simply put, I want to make a difference in other people's lives.

YOUR CALL...MY PRIORITY.

Anna -Maria Pittella is a family law attorney with over forty years of experience. She will no longer litigate a divorce because of the toll it takes on a family emotionally and financially. She is an Accredited Professional Mediator since 1997, a court approved roster economic mediator since the program began and family collaborative attorney since 2004. She offers her skills in the resolution of family matters by mediation and collaboration. Nether process takes place at the courthouse but in a comfortable office setting confidentially and supportive, providing guidance in decisions for the family's transition to two households. She continually seeks and attends educational events to deepen her skills and is a trainer in family collaborative law. She is one of the initiators of the family collaborative law movement in New Jersey that culminated in the passage of the New Jersey Family Collaborative Act on Dec. 10 2014.

ATTORNEY AT LAW

I attended Rutgers University where I obtained dual degrees: a Master's in Social Work and a Doctorate in Law. As a result of these dual, professional degrees, I passionately adhere to my therapeutic training whereby you empower others while offering your professional support and knowledge. As a legal professional, it is my belief that you, your family, and most importantly, your children, come first...and all voices should have value.

I served as a Law Clerk to the Honorable Anne R. Bartlett in 2005. I also clerked for the Honorable Thomas H. Dilts, P.J.F.P. and the Honorable Julie M. Marino that same year. I am a member of the American, New Jersey and Somerset County Bar Associations, and I am a member of the Family Law Section of each association. I am also a member of the Internal Alliance of Collaborative Professionals, as well as the Mid-Jersey Collaborative Alliance.

ASSOCIATE

Louis M. Ragone is a member of Stark & Stark's divorce group, with a practice dedicated exclusively to handling family law matters through the collaborative process, mediation, and traditional litigation. Mr. Ragone's practice concentrates on all aspects of divorce litigation, including but not limited to, child custody, alimony, child support, and equitable distribution issues. Mr. Ragone also handles post-judgment litigation, including cases involving the emancipation of a child, custody, or support modification, college contribution, and relocation.

After graduating from law school, Mr. Ragone serviced as judicial law clerk to the Honorable Lawrence R. Jones, J.S.C., Superior Court of New Jersey, Family Division, in Toms River, New Jersey. He went on to work as an Associate at another New Jersey law firm in Monmouth County before beginning his tenure at Stark & Stark.

How you and your spouse proceed through the end of your marriage may significantly affect your family's happiness and satisfaction post-divorce. The collaborative process provides a healthier transition to post-divorce life for the parties and their families.

By focusing on the parties' goals and all the financial, mental and emotional difficulties a divorce inevitably brings forth, the parties in the collaborative process are often able to craft a more durable, satisfying resolution to their divorce without the negative effects often seen after a highly contested litigated divorce.

"How to Get a Mortgage"

<http://bestlowerrate.com>

As a mortgage banker, with over thirty-five years of experience in the mortgage and banking field, I specialize in assisting divorcing couples with their mortgage needs. I often meet with the couples separately or along with various members of the collaborative team, as needed.

At no cost, I advise the couple on how to best position themselves in order to receive the best possible rates in their necessary timeframe. In my work as a Collaborative Advisor, I am available to the attorneys and the parties to discuss rates, guidelines and terms of current mortgage products. I am also available to perform a mortgage prequalification, so that the parties can plan for mortgage financing accordingly.

Objective:

To work with a Collaborative Divorce Team to help a borrower navigate the challenging lending market utilizing my industry knowledge and experience.

Testimonial:

"I have had the pleasure of working with Donna on a number of real estate transactions. She is honest, thorough and diligent, and extremely knowledgeable about all facets of the mortgage industry and process. She stays on top of her deals, and unfailingly delivers what she promises. Every client I know who has worked with Donna, has been extremely satisfied with her services and with the loans they have received as a result of Donna's efforts. She is always available to her clients, and without reservation, I endorse and recommend Donna to anyone looking for a mortgage. She is especially sensitive to the needs of separating or divorcing couples, as I have seen, as an attorney working with Donna in our Collaborative Divorce groups." -July 14, 2010 C.Catherine Jannarone, Esq
